Professional Profile

Intervening in the disease process as early as possible on behalf of her patients is the driving factor for Dr. Munson's commitment to continued education and accolades. Cultivating a culture of prevention alongside her clinical team of wellness heroes is what drives her delivery of care and the patient experience. Prevention is the best form of treatment at Fort Collins Family Eye Care.

At the EyeSpa, Dr. Munson combines her strong interest in techniques to enhance natural healing and restoration of the delicate tissue at and around the eyes with options for improved collagen production and improved eye comfort. The year 2018 offered intensive mentorship, clinical directorship, and advanced training alongside leading industry expert Dr. Paul Karpecki of Lexington, Kentucky. Dr. Munson is the founding member of Colorado's Dry Eye Society offering advanced education in the Mountain West Region for ocular surface disease across collaborative healthcare disciplines.

Dr. Munson also owns and operates the Vision Performance Center of Fort Collins caring for athletes, headache and migraine sufferers, head injury survivors, and students suffering from reading, tracking, and binocular vision disorders. Dr. Munson has additional education regarding the treatment and management of vision performance and rehabilitation, and as a graduate of vision performance training herself, she attributes her successes and improvements in reaction time, eye hand coordination, and her improved putting skills on the golf course to vision performance training.
